

MATTEO CAPPELLI

SENIOR FULL STACK DEVELOPER TECH LEAD & CLIENT MANAGER

Senior Developer specialized in PHP/Symfony in a Linux environment. Within the company, I ensure end-to-end management of assigned projects, handling development, deployment procedures and the direct client interface with full technical autonomy. Proactive and team-oriented, I actively collaborate in structured teams and have gained experience in coordination, tutoring and mentoring junior resources.

EXPERIENCE

ALL YOU SRL | OCTOBER 2019 - PRESENT

I hold a highly autonomous, multifunctional role, combining software development with direct project management and client relations. I am responsible for the entire software lifecycle. I lead projects from requirements analysis and client management through development, production release and ongoing maintenance.

- Development of web applications and REST APIs using PHP/Symfony in a Linux environment.
- Independent selection of design patterns, database modeling and definition of the code's logical structure.
- Code organization and team workflow management using Git. Daily management of communications and critical issues in close contact with the client.
- Autonomous task planning, execution and resolution.
- Independent workload organization and priority management, balancing client deadlines with the project's technical sustainability.
- Sole responsibility for deployment processes across environments and production, with system administration fundamentals in configuring and managing Linux servers.
- Production system monitoring and immediate intervention in case of bugs or critical anomalies.
- Tutoring and mentoring, personally handling technical training and onboarding for new team members.
- Ability to operate both fully autonomously on projects and within structured teams. When required, I coordinate other developers, both internal and external collaborators.
